

Practice Policy – Animal Reiki

Please read the following practice policy and sign to indicate you understand agree with the terms

- Bluejay Rising reserves the right to cancel a treatment without refund should the client arrive late.
- Cancellations must be made up to seven days prior to the appointment, any cancellations thereafter are non refundable.
- Payment only accepted via PayPal prior to the appointment
- Bluejay Rising reserves the right to refuse treatment to any client should they be abusive, disrespectful or appear to be under the influence of substances.
- The practice reserve the right to refuse treatment if an animal is unwilling to participate
- The clients must inform the practitioner if an animal is aggressive or poses a threat of injury, the practitioner reserves the right to refuse treatment if an animal is overly aggressive and the practitioner feels there is a threat of harm to themselves
- The practitioner also reserves the right to refuse treatment without refund should a client arrive with an animal without proper restraint equipment after having agreed to do so previously.
- The practitioner may also refuse treatment if a client has not informed the practitioner of the personal protective equipment they may need prior to the treatment.
- Bluejay Rising reserves the right to refuse treatment if an animal is displaying symptoms of a contagious disease

I have read and agree to adhere to the policies outlined in the above statement

Pet/Animal name.....

Signed..... Print name.....

Date.....